MAYOR AND OTHERS OF TERRE HAUTE GUILTY

Jury in Terre Haute Elections Fraud Case Finds Entire 27 Guilty of Crime Charged and Judge Will Pass Sentence Next Monday—89 Other Voluntarily Have Confessed Guilty

Associated Press. Indianapolis, April 6.—All of the defendants, including Mayor Donn M. Roberts, in the Terre Haute election fraud case, were found guilty by a jury today. The case has been tried in the Federal Court here since March 8.

Judge Anderson announced that sentence would be passed on the 27 men, who were found guilty, and the men who have pleaded guilty, next Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

In the meantime he permitted the defendants, with the exception of Alexander Aczel, alias Steel, to remain at liberty under their previous bonds. Steel has been in jail for some time unable to give bond of $5000 for alleged attempt to influence government witnesses.

All of the defendants, many of whom were accompanied by relatives, met the verdict calmly, and there was no demonstration of any sort.

Those found guilty included Donn M. Roberts, mayor of Terre Haute and candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor; Eli H. Redman, declared elected Vigo circuit court judge by 10 votes; Elmer E. Talbot, comptroller of Terre Haute until his resignation because of the trial here; Dennis Shea, sheriff of Vigo county; Maurice Walsh, county scaler of weights and measures and treasurer of campaign funds; Harry S. Montgomery, president of the Board of Public Works; John M. Masselink, city inspector of weights and measures and a member of the state legislature in 1911; Thomas C. Smith, city judge.

Hilton Redman, son of Eli Redman; George Ehrenhardt, member of the Board of Public Works. The list of other defendants included city employees, gamblers, saloon keepers and politicians.

POWERFUL NEW SUBMARINES PROVING DEADLY MENACE

Two Additional Boats Torpedoed Off English Coast—Italy is Rushing Massing of Troops—Russians Driving Teutonic Allies Before Them And Are West of Carpathians At One Point.

By Associated Press. London, April 6.—Germany's new and powerful submarines are striking effectively at British shipping, and today's dispatches report the sinking of two more vessels. The British steamer Northlands and the trawler Agatha were torpedoed near the English coast. The crews were rescued.

The torpedoing of the Italian steamer Luigi Parodi, reported last night, is believed in Genoa to have been off the coast of Spain, indicating a considerably increased range of operations for the large submarines such as Germany is now using.

Another Italian steamer, the Pina, is overdue at Cardiff by about a month, and it is feared she has been torpedoed.

It is reported unofficially from Dunkirk, that a German submarine has been caught near Dover in nets, such as have been placed at various points along the English coast to trap these boats.

Military preparations are pushed in Italy with increasing vigor. A Rome dispatch says negotiations are being continued with Austria, and there is still hope of a settlement by diplomatic means.

Reports of a decisive Russian victory in the Carpathians are doubted in Berlin, where it is said that the result of the battle is still in doubt. A German correspondent at the front points out that Russian advances, in consequence of local victories, will make their offensive movements more difficult.

Further fighting has occurred between Belgian and German forces in Africa. An official report from the Belgian Congo says that an invading German force was defeated and pursued into German territory.

London, April 6.—Discussion by the British press of the American note in reply to the British order in council has been widespread. Most of it expresses gratification with the tone of the note, but there is great difference of opinion as to the possible result.

Unofficial Austrian news declares that Austro-German forces in the vicinity of the Lupkow pass are in full retreat. Russian reports of fighting within the boundary of Hungary north of Czernowitz, is going on. Austrians claim it have prevented the Russians from crossing the river Dneister.

STORMY SESSION HELD BY CITY SOLONS LAST NIGHT

the Solicitor to prepare ordinances for the sidewalk, sewer and curb on Leesburg avenue.

Sheets met the proposal with the statement that money had been appropriated for the sewer, and that the curb had been provided for in the paving specifications; that the proposal by Howell was another attempt to hold up the improvement and he moved that the resolution to pave Leesburg avenue be placed upon its third reading. When the question was put, Howell and M. Tracey voted no, the others voting yes. Solicitor Gregg decided that the motion had lost.

Sheets then announced that he had a petition asking for the improvement, and that the property owners who had signed the petition owned 300 feet more than one-half of the foot frontage. He moved the petition be read. Howell said he would vote for the improvement when the improvement was complete.

Will Worthington addressed council, saying the sidewalks were unnecessary, and that to build both sidewalks and street at the same time would work a hardship upon the property owners.

Attorney C. A. Reid stated that he understood the petition mentioned by Mr. Sheets had not been filed.

Mr. Worthington told Mr. Reid that he had the petition in his pocket. He then said that Mr. Howell had stated to him that when a majority of the property owners had signed a petition for the improvement, he would vote for it.

Mr. Reid said no vote could be taken on the motion by Mr. Sheets because the petition had not been filed, and that he understood those who had been opposing the improvement would offer no further objection if the improvement included sidewalks and was made complete.

President Melvin asked to be shown one improvement where sidewalks were built when the street was paved. Mr. Rowe urged that council had no right to tear up good sidewalks and order new ones constructed.

JESSE WILLARD ARRIVES IN CITY

Jesse Willard arrived in Washington Monday evening and expects to make this city his future home.

But Jess is not the big cowboy pugilist who put Jack Johnson out of the game at Havana Monday. His full name is Jesse Willard Tillett, a nine pound son born to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tillett, of E. Market street, late Monday evening.

Mr. Tillett, who has showed marked ability as a light-weight amateur pugilist, is a great admirer of the big world champion, and when the son was born upon the day of Willard's notable victory, he promptly named him after the big Kansan.

It is Mr. Tillett's intention to secure a photograph of his son and send it to the world champion, together with the information that it is probably Jesse's first namesake. Mr. Tillett is employed at the Manhattan restaurant where he is receiving congratulations.

EASTER SERVICES AT ST. COLMANS

Easter Sunday, April 14th, 1915, will long be remembered by the Pastor and congregation of St. Colman's Parish.

The three altars were a mass of flowers and a blaze of light.

At 7:30 mass the Holy Name Society made a splendid showing as every member responded to the invitations previously sent out requesting each member to be present in order that they might receive Communion in a body. The children's choir had charge of the music and their fresh young voices made a special appeal to all who heard them.

Father Fogarty closed the services of the first mass with a few well chosen remarks upon the Easter season and the wish that each and every one should enjoy a happy Easter.

The last mass was celebrated at 9:30 at which the choir rendered a beautiful mass. The soloists were Mr. Louis Bernhard, Mr. Chas. Cullen and Miss Regina McDonald. The splendid chorus was composed of Mr. James McDonald, Mr. Adam Bernhard, Mr. Thomas Cullen, Mr. Fred Simpson, Mr. Aloysius McDonald, Mr. Frank Collopy.

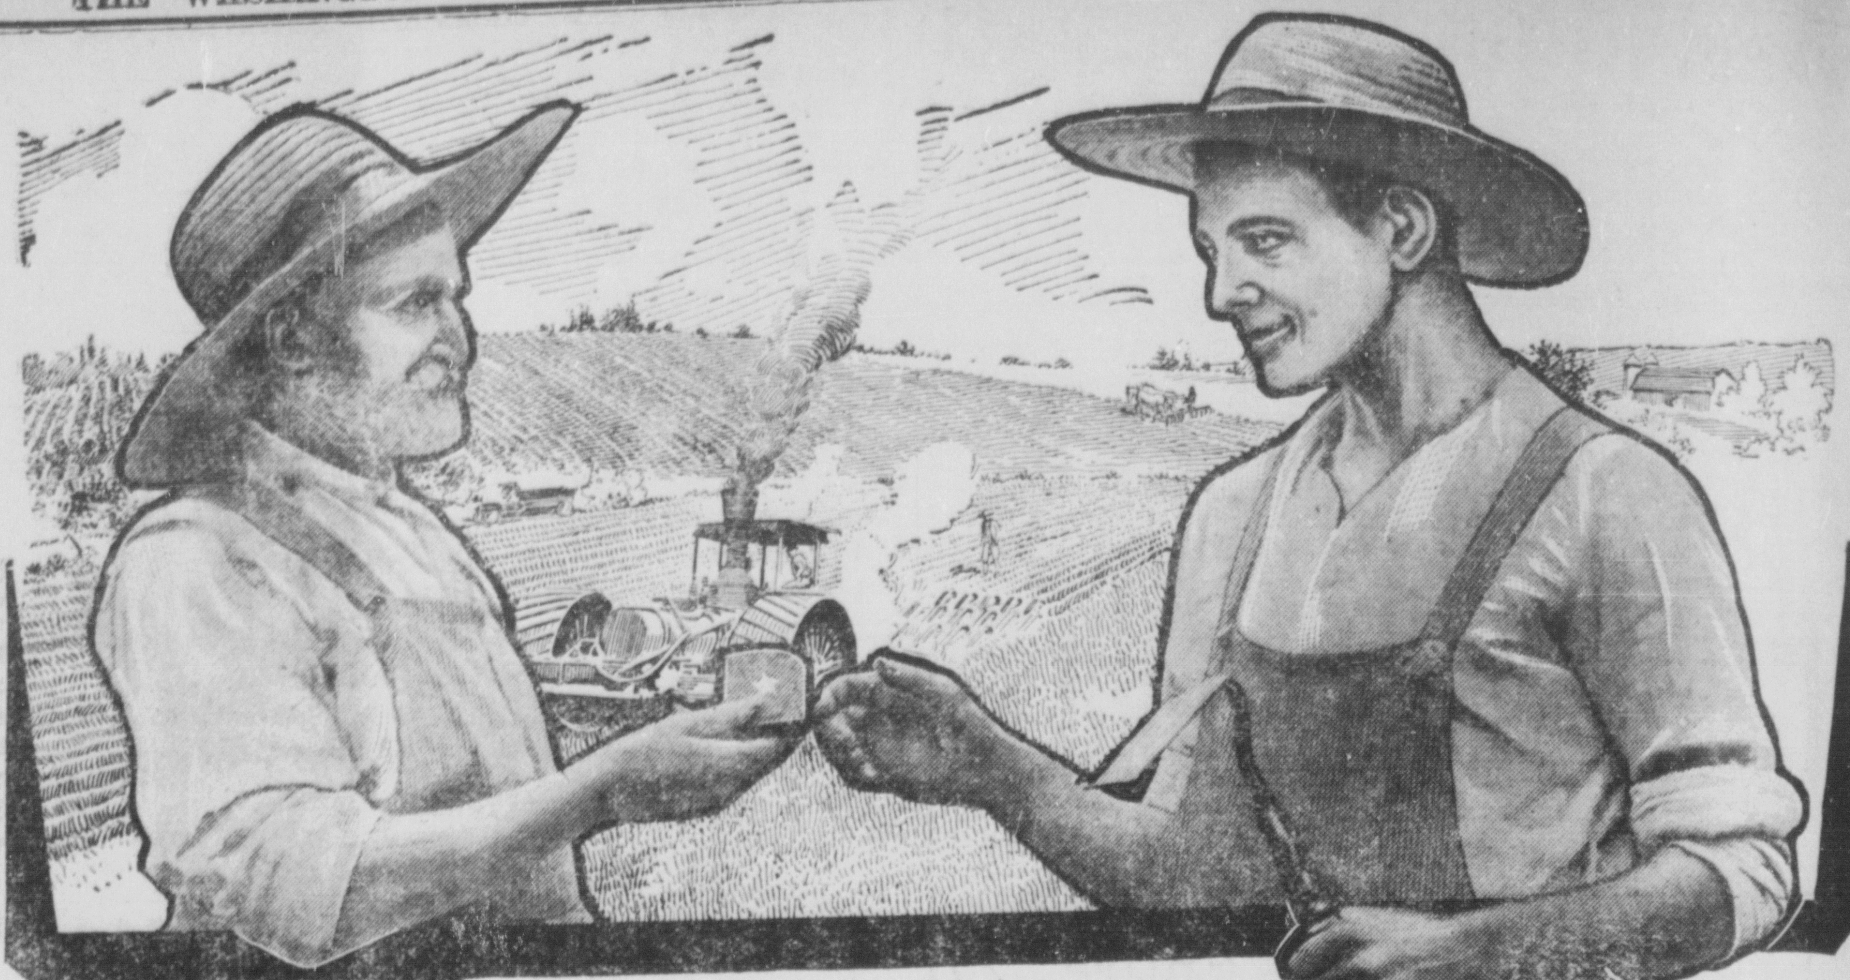

As so much depends upon the organist a great deal of credit is due Miss Margaret McDonald, whose accompaniment was perfect.

"STAR—Good For One—Better for Two"

Men Who Chew Are Men Who DO

THE farmers, on whom so much of America's success depends, are almost without exception, tobacco chewers. And more farmers use STAR tobacco than use any other brand.

It speaks pretty well for STAR that men who know tobacco, many of them being tobacco raisers, prefer mellow STAR Tobacco—in the thick, tasty plug.

Imagine a ripe orange in a thin skin. That's just like a plug of STAR—so full of ripe, good "chew" that it can't dry out—made clean and kept that way.

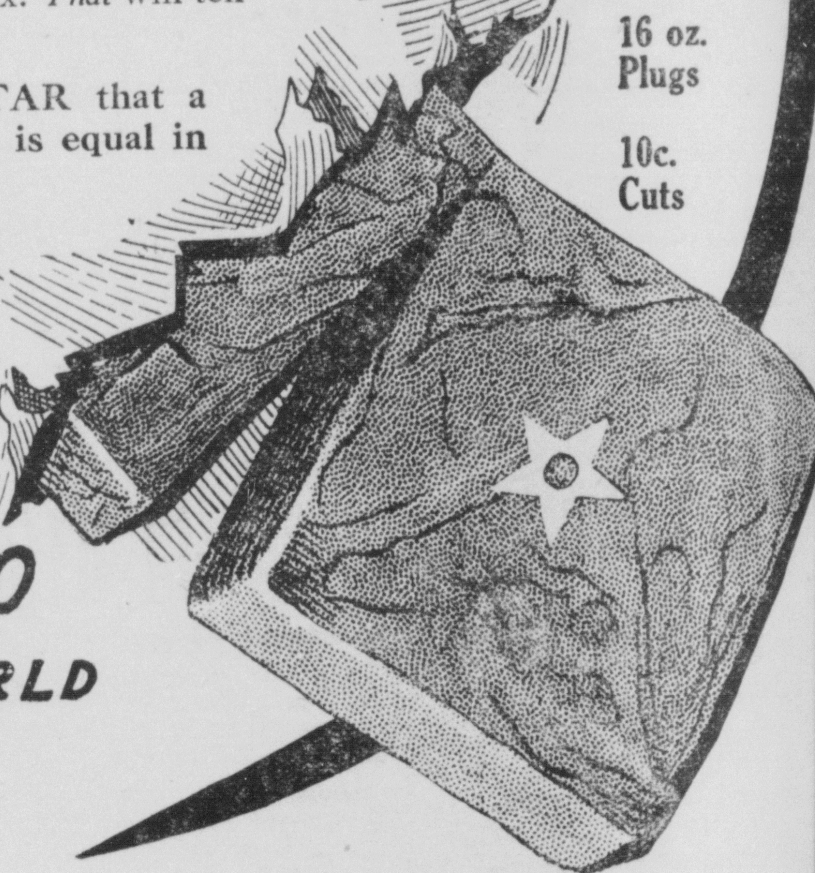

And don't confuse STAR with any of those 14 or 15 ounce "pound" plugs. Each plug of STAR weighs 16 ounces. Ask the dealer to let you see the revenue stamp on the box. That will tell the story of honest weight.

So great is the nation-wide demand for STAR that a year's output of sixteen ounce STAR plugs is equal in weight to 416,666 bushels of wheat.

companions and solos were so well rendered.

At the Offertory Mr. Louis Bernhard played a violin obligato with organ accompaniment. After the eloquent sermon the services closed with benediction and the hymn of praise, "God of Might."

OILING SEASON AGAIN AT HAND

The street oiling season has arrived once more, and so far as known no steps have been taken to have the oil applied to the residence streets which are not to be paved this season.

The dry weather and dust has caused a growing clamor for street oiling, and within a short time petitions will be prepared and circulated for oiling the various thoroughfares.

Some of the streets which usually have a small amount of traffic will have an unusually large amount until the paving is completed, and the dust nuisance will be almost unbearable until the streets are oiled.

DIXIE HIGHWAY

In true Southern style the new Dixie Highway was launched forth at Chattanooga at the Convention of Governors of the States of Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia. The New highway runs from Chicago to Miami, Florida, passing through South Bend, Indianapolis, Louisville, Nashville, Chattanooga, Atlanta and Jacksonville, with its tributary connections to Alabama points, Georgia points as well as Kentucky and Ohio.

As explained at the meeting by Raymond Beck, Chief of the Goodrich National Touring Bureau, the construction of this highway from a touring standpoint is practically as valuable as the Lincoln Highway or the National Old Trails Road for the reason that it will afford the thousands of motorists in the Mississippi Valley between the Rockies and the Alleghenies an opportunity to tour south on the route, offering a tour of varied scenery, passing through Mammoth Cave, historic Nashville, the Wonder Cave of Tennessee, the historical points in Chattanooga, thence following or paralleling Sherman's March to the Sea from Atlanta to the coast. This opens up the resort districts of Georgia and Florida. Practically all of the tourists in Ohio and Indiana and middlewestern states were required to proceed east into Pennsylvania thence south over either the Shenandoah Valley route or south through Washington, Richmond and Raleigh.

Announcement was made by Mr. Beck at this meeting that to expedite the building of this highway; to create an interest and to stimulate touring over same, that The B. F. Goodrich Company would immediately

A Community Interest

The fate of the Welfare Association hangs in the balance. Established but a short time as it has been, the organization has proved everything claimed for it; it has kept many from absolute want; it has provided work for men, women, girls and boys; it has found homes for helpless babies, given them a chance for life; it has meant protection from disease and health precautions invaluable to the community.

No one could deny or even question these facts. The incredible thing is that there should be any question in regard to sustaining an organization so fraught with possibilities for benefit to the community. It is a community interest.

Every person in the community is safer from the safeguarding work of this association.

With less poverty there is less incentive to crime; with work provided there is little excuse for shiftlessness; with contagious disease ferreted out in the homes of the poor there is far less danger to the children of better surroundings. Yet the people of Washington have refused to join with the handful of men and women who are fighting desperately for the life of the organization.

Either through misguided judgment or carelessness, it could hardly be laid to selfishness, for even such a motive would lead to its support, people are not realizing the splendid assistance given to the physical well being and moral status of Washington by this organization. They are endangering it by indifference and refusing to contribute to its support.

It is impossible to continue the association without money. Those active in the organization have already devoted largely of time, effort and money. They are busy people and it is the least those who sit idly by and reap the benefits can do to swell the treasury by a volunteer donation.

If the time comes that the Welfare Association is a thing of the past and the old happy-go-lucky, hit and miss charity, which is by no means always a charity, once more substituted for it, people will waken to the fact that they have refused to take by the fetlock one of the greatest opportunities which has ever been given to our city.

Big Business Takes a Stand

Efficiency is the battle cry of the world of industry today and whatever detracts from the employees' efficiency is being subjected to violent onslaught by the "captains of industry."

It is largely this question of efficiency which has led to the present world wide advocacy of total abstinence. As nations at war realize that it is necessary to the success of their armies to have sober men in their ranks, so are the great industrial corporations demanding that employees separate themselves from alcoholic drinks.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels is by no means alone in his stand for abstinence. Director Harris, of the Census Bureau has even gone so far as to not only insist upon abstinence for all employees in his bureau—he even refuses to accept sickness for an excuse—"If a man is sick enough to require a brace," says the director, "he is sick enough to stay at home."

The Homestead Steel Works has positively ordered that no employee be allowed to drink while on duty and the employee drinking while off duty finds his position in jeopardy. All dinners and banquets connected with this big plant will hereafter be dry.

The Carnegie Company has ordered that hereafter all promotions be made from the ranks of those who do not use intoxicating drinks.

The Philadelphia Quartz Company has ordered a ten per cent increase to workmen who do not use alcoholic drinks. The general manager is quoted as saying "All manufacturers are endeavoring to make the best grade of goods and sober men are necessary where the standard is to be raised and maintained."

The Pittsburg Coal Company announces that dismissal is the penalty for workmen who belong to clubs which dispense liquor.

These are only a few of the many companies standing pat on the subject of abstinence for employees. It is the day of the strenuous life. The man who makes good in today's competition needs every equipment and those higher up demand that there be no handicap which lessens their employees' efficiency, and subsequently interferes with their own interests.

The question of alcoholic beverages is resolving itself into a practical business issue.

STRONG MAN.

He proudly shows his biceps grand
And gives his friends to understand
That he's a miracle of strength,
Explains the laws of health at length
And names a diet that will give
The feeblest man the force to live.

He spends whole evenings at the gym
In exercise to keep him slim.

Then hurries home as half past 10
And eats enough for two strong men.
Soon, noting in his weight a gain,
He says from food he will abstain.

He talks about his measurements
As if he hadn't any sense,
Apollo if compared with him
Would seem deformed in every limb;
Venus de Milo, you'd have guessed,
Had a curved spine and hollow chest.

This perfect man, this Hercules,
Is intellectual as a cheese;
He does not dare to work, I've found,
For fear 'twill make him muscle bound.

One thing you find, as you inspect him,
He's good for—doctors might dissect him!

RUSSIANS NOW ON SOIL OF HUNGARY

Big Battles Raging at Dukla and Lupkow Passes.

London, April 6.—According to dispatches from Petrograd, the Russians are on the Hungarian side of both the Dukla and Lupkow passes and, with the aid of continual reinforcements, are gaining the heights which dominate Uzsok pass. Even the Austrian official report admits that fighting is now taking place in the Laborca valley, which is south of Lupkow pass, while the Russians announce the capture of Ciena, an important station on the high mountains between Lupkow and Uzsok passes, where they captured a great stock of war munitions and provisions.

The Russians also are advancing from Dukla pass on Bartfeld, which is at the head of the line of railway running south into Hungary, and fighting not far from Mezlaborecz, another important railroad head. On Saturday and Sunday they captured in the Carpathians upward of 3,000 prisoners. They also claim another success in Bukovina and the capture of another 1,000 prisoners, while the Austrians assert that they repulsed a Russian force which attempted to cross the Dniester river.

The Russians also are making progress in northern Poland, a German official report telling of the repulse of a Russian attack on Mariampol, which is considerably west of the region that a few days ago was in the possession of the Germans.

BLOODY WORK OF ONE MAN

New York, April 6.—It appears as if one man alone had killed Otto Zinn, restaurant proprietor, in Third avenue, and two of his helpers, in an effort to break into Zinn's safe. The police have secured a great number of finger prints, the ax with which the murders were done, measurements of the slayer's footsteps, a burglar's tool or two and a black cloth cut as a mask that was left behind in flight.

It is believed that the thief secreted himself in the cellar beneath the restaurant. When Stephen Cumencew, an employee, went into the cellar at midnight to bank the furnace, the robber met him with the ax. Roman Held, in the kitchen up stairs, back of the restaurant, did not hear anything, but after a while he became puzzled over Cumencew's long stay in the cellar. He went down to see what he was up to. Held was met and killed in the same way.

The murderer went up stairs, hauled the safe out from behind the counter and forced it in the cellar. The noise startled the Zinns, up on the second floor. Zinn went down stairs and, taking two meat knives from the kitchen, started into the cellar. He was met and killed after a struggle which his helpers had no chance to put up.

The murderer did not get into the safe, but he forced a cash drawer and secured $100.

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION IN PROGRESS

BIG TWO DAY CONGRESS OF COUNTY CHURCH INTERESTS BEING HELD AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY — INTERESTING ADDRESSES AND MUSICAL PROGRAMS FEATURE THE FOUR SESSIONS OF THE MEETING — DEBATE BY STATE SPEAKERS ON LIQUOR QUESTION TUESDAY EVENING.

Beginning at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and continuing with four sessions, until Wednesday evening, the annual convention of the Sunday schools of Fayette county is now in progress at the Presbyterian church. Representatives from all over the county are in attendance, and in many respects the convention promises to be one of the most enthusiastic and elaborate held in years.

Four sessions comprise the big two day congress: Tuesday afternoon, Tuesday evening, Wednesday morning and Wednesday afternoon. Both afternoon sessions begin at 1 o'clock, the morning session begins at 9:15 o'clock and the evening at 7:30.

The afternoon session of Tuesday was marked by interesting addresses and entertaining musical renditions. The session opened with a devotional service, conducted by the Rev. T. C. Kerr, of Bloomingburg. An interesting address on "The Sunday School Scholar and Church Attendance," by the Rev. H. K. Wishon, of Jeffersonville followed.

Two beautiful solo selections, by Mrs. Wert Shoop and Mrs. Arthur Burgett, were enjoyed by the large assemblage.

"Evangelism in the Sunday School" was the title of a comprehensive discourse by the Rev. Bowman Hostetler, and an instructive concluding address was made by the Rev. P. J. Henness, on the subject "Glimpses from Abroad."

The session this evening has been arranged with great care and will possess several attractive features including a dialogue debate between E. J. Hall and D. C. Summers, of Colorado, who have been lecturing all over the state in the interest of the state anti-saloon movement. The subject of the debate will be "Temperance."

The program for this evening will be as follows: Devotional services, conducted by the Rev. Frank A. Miller; double male quartette; Duet—"Lead Kindly Light," by Dr. L. P. Howell and Mr. L. L. Bowman; Dialogue Debate, Messrs Hall and Summers; music; offering; benediction.

Features of Wednesday's sessions will be addresses by State Secretary Dr. J. D. Darling of Ohio Sunday Schools, and Mrs. Curtiss, State Lecturer. Dr. Darling will talk at both sessions and Mrs. Curtiss in the afternoon, to the children. Dinner will be served at the church Wednesday.

that he meant a legitimate petition, and "not a slush-fund petition," which, he stated, had some resemblance of bribery.

An exchange of personalities resulted in the president tapping for order and stating that personalities must be eliminated.

J. E. Mark then spoke, stating that regarding the "slush fund," some 25 prominent farmers and others using Leesburg avenue, had subscribed to the fund because they were willing to help put the improvement through.

Attorney J. D. Post asked how much money had been subscribed to the "slush fund." He was not informed of the amount, and then defied anyone to name the amount, saying he questioned the validity of a petition drawn up under such influences, and hinted that it might come under the name of bribery. He said that there was a law requiring that when an improvement was once made to an established grade, that not more than one-half of subsequent improvements can be assessed against the property owner. He asked Mr. Worthington if he would help improve the street in front of his own property. Before yielding the floor he stated that "a bought signature to a petition is illegal."

Mr. Sheets stated that if others had used a "slush fund" that council was in no way responsible, and if the "slush fund" was bribery, the case was against others and not council.

Geo. Inskeep then spoke. He said that he was of the opinion that the city could get along better without so many "kickers," and that he was getting tired of kickers, and the city would be better if that class of people moved out to some obscure country road where taxes were unknown; that the time had come to "handle kickers without gloves." He urged council to get down to business, and vote to pave Leesburg avenue and all other streets of importance.

Mr. Sheets withdrew his motion to have the petition read and moved to reconsider the action on the third reading of the petition.

Mr. Howell said that realizing the previous deadlock he had tried to bring about an agreement, went to the so called "kickers" and was informed that if the improvement was made complete no objection would be raised. When asked by Mr. Sheets if a majority of the people on the street had asked for the new sidewalks, Mr. Howell stated they had not. After more pointed remarks the vote to reconsider was taken, Mr. Howell and Mr. M. Tracey voting no. Solicitor held the motion had-carried.

After an informal recess Mr. Sheets moved that the service director be instructed to build the sewer on Leesburg avenue, providing the improvement was made as contemplated.

This motion was withdrawn and substituted by another asking that the first ordinance presented by Mr. Howell, be read. It was read, and provided for a sewer from Oakland avenue to Court street.

Mr. Worthington asked if legislation could be enacted so that sidewalks could, if necessary, be constructed at a later date than the paving. He was informed that the work could be done at different times.

Upon motion by Mr. Sheets that a committee be appointed by the president to investigate the sidewalk improvement, the question was put and carried. Messrs Howell and Tracey voting no. All of council and the engineer were appointed.

Mr. Veal then moved that the other ordinance submitted by Mr. Howell, be read. All favored the reading. The ordinance provided for

417 HEAD OF CATTLE SOLD

One of the largest herds of cattle ever shipped out of Fayette county by one man was a drove of 417 head of fine fat cattle sold by Hon. Humphrey Jones to Alex Thompson, local agent for Sultzberger & Son, of New York City, and the price received for the big herd of choice animals is said to reach near the $50,000 mark.

The herd of 417 head was one of the smoothest lots of animals ever shipped from Fayette. They averaged somewhat less than 1500 pounds, and the selling price is said to have been about $8 per cwt.

The animals were fed upon Mr. Jones' large estate east of this city, ensilage, wheat straw and cotton seed meal being used, and owing to the quarantine it has been necessary for Mr. Jones to feed the cattle from one to two months longer than otherwise necessary.

It required 26 cars to carry the animals, and this one long train, laden with cattle fed by one man, was run over the B. & O., and the animals shipped direct to New York, where they will be slaughtered and consumed.

The herd just sold, together with others sold by Mr. Jones during the past winter, brings the total number up to about 825 head fed off during the winter.

W. T. Holmes addressed council, urging the paving but no sidewalks. He stated that along the Daugherty property where a seven foot sidewalk had been ordered, a five foot walk had been built, and hinted that a terrace wall infringed upon the sidewalk. Mr. Daugherty stated the wall was upon their own property.

When asked by Mr. Sheets if the city could compel the tearing up of good walks and replacing with other walks, Solicitor Gregg held that council could not compel it.

In Social Circles

The April meeting of the D. A. R. brought together at the home of Mrs. Ray Maynard the largest turnout of daughters of the year, augmented to a hundred women by a number of invited guests.

Assisting Mrs. Maynard as the evening's hostess were Mesdames Morris, Regent, John Durant, Minnie Brown, H. G. Simmons, of Greenfield; Misses Anna and Lizzie Bell, McCafferty, Florence Ogle and Van Winkle.

Withal that there have been many attractive D. A. R. affairs, no more beautiful party has ever been given than the one of Monday night.

The lovely new home offered in itself great attraction, and provided a setting which added no little to the brilliancy of the affair. The unusual mission style of the exterior of white stucco with iron railings and terrace of lawn, is not one whit more artistic than the interior, finished in rich brown weathered oak and showing ideal arrangement for both beauty and convenience.

A delight to the eye is the large living room, with broad stair landing flanking one end and mission mantel, with built in bookcase at the other.

The dining room opens into it effectively and is decidedly out of the ordinary in its unique style and furnishings. A color scheme in old rose and old ivory is employed in both rooms, the draperies, rugs and furnishings carried out in effective harmony.

The guests were not satisfied until they had roamed over the entire house, finding the upper floor as dainty and perfect in its finishings and arrangement as the lower.

Easter blossoms, daffodils, jonquils and tulips, in graceful arrangement, gave an added touch of spring distinctiveness.

The evening was entirely social, with world famous musicians filling the rooms with melody from the Victrola, and Mrs. Bertha Miller added immensely to the pleasure of the hour in her reading of Ruth McHenry Stewart's "Napoleon Jackson."

It is always a privilege to hear this reader, possessing with her rare talent so much personal charm, in her own inimitable way she brought before the audience the characters of the little story, throwing high lights upon the humor and pathos of the loyal "Roxana" and her spouse, the immaculated "Napoleon Jackson," born to rest in the "prize rocker."

It was altogether a thoroughly delightful evening, with a delicious reflection following Mrs. Miller's reading.

There were a number of Daughters and guests from out of town, including Mesdames Faye Baldwin, Vedic Gerken, Dwight Miller, Walter Dunlap, John Case, of Greenfield; Mrs. Johnson, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mrs. E. F. Kinnear, of Columbus; Miss Frederica Crawford, of Woodstock; Miss Forest Allen.

The M. H. G. Class was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Audrey Baughn and Mrs. Alta Baughn, at the home of their mother, Mrs. Joseph Kimball, Monday evening.

The spacious home was redolent with Easter bloom and Victrola music and a tempting collation added to the evening's social enjoyment. Mrs. Kimball assisted in the evening's hospitalities.

AS A HERO BIG JESS IS MODEST

Takes His Great Victory Over Johnson Philosophically.

WAS NOT HURT DURING FIGHT

Slash Over the Heart in the Twentieth Round, He Says, Made Him Gasp For Breath—Johnson, Defeated Champion, Forced the Fighting For Twenty Rounds—Graphic Review of the Great Battle.

Havana, Cuba, April 6.—Jess Willard, the Kansas cowboy, acclaimed the new heavyweight champion of the world, is going back to the United States to win the fortune which was denied him yesterday when he defeated Jack Johnson, the colored champion, after twenty-six strenuous rounds. Johnson got $30,000 before the fight started, Willard taking only a small share of the net receipts.

The fight probably has no parallel in the history of ring battles. For twenty rounds Johnson punched and pounded Willard at will, but his blows grew perceptibly less powerful as the fight progressed, until at last he seemed unable or unwilling to go on. Johnson stopped leading and for three or four rounds the battle between the two huge men was little more than a series of plastic poses of white or black gladiators.

So it was until the twenty-fifth round, when Willard got one of his widely swinging, windmill right-hand smashes to Johnson's heart. This was the beginning of the end.

When the round closed Johnson sent word to his wife that he was all in and told her to start for home. She was on the way out and was passing the ring in the twenty-sixth round when a stinging left to the body and a cyclonic right to the jaw caused Johnson to crumple on the floor of the ring, where he lay, partly outside the ropes, until the referee counted ten and held up Willard's hand in token of his newly won laurels.

Johnson Not Unconscious.

There is much discussion, and probably will be for a long time among the followers of the fighting game, as to whether Johnson was really knocked out. In the sense of being smashed into unconsciousness, he certainly was not put out. The consensus of opinion is that Johnson expected and knew that there was no possibility of his winning; so when knocked down, he chose to take the count rather than rise and stand further punishment.

A second or two after Jack Welsh, the referee, had counted ten, Johnson quickly got up. It was well that he did so, for a moment later a rush of spectators to the fighting platform all but smothered the pugilists.

Under escort of the soldiers Willard and Johnson left the ring and went to their dressing rooms, while the crowd cheered and broke into wild discussion.

As Willard came along the crowds in the streets waved flags and linen handkerchiefs tied to sticks. At one point a group of negro children, who had evidently heard that Johnson was the victor, waved black flags at the white champion, who was much amused.

Willard probably is the most modest champion who ever stepped out of a prize ring, taking his victory as philosophically as he had looked forward to the fight. Neither he nor Johnson showed much evidence of having been engaged in a heavyweight championship battle.

The new champion's lip, right ear and left cheek showed slight cuts, but at no time was there more than a drop or two of blood in evidence.

Willard Talks.

Concerning his plans Willard said: "I have no immediate plans for fights in the future. I am obligated to the syndicate which promoted the fight and would like to rest at home after an exhibition tour which I understood is projected."

Willard said that none of Johnson's blows hurt more than momentarily except a slash over the heart about the twentieth round, which made him gasp for breath during the balance of the round. He declared he was not sore about the body, but one of the toes of his left foot was slightly sprained and swollen from a twist.

WILLIAM M. CALDER

Former Congressman to Be Honored by New York Republicans.

One of the big political events of the near future is planned as a dinner to former Congressman William M. Calder of Brooklyn. It will be held at the Republican club of the city of New York on April 16. The banquet will be given to mark the end of Congressman Calder's ten years' service at Washington. During the last four years, Congressman Calder was the only Republican representative from Greater New York. It is expected that Senator Elihu Root will speak at the dinner.

Johnson must have known this, for constantly during the fight he kept extending his left foot until he could just press down on Willard's left toes.

The new champion is not emotional. He is a one idea man and his determination was to battle Johnson after a plan carefully thought out. He never deviated from that purpose. All of Johnson's taunts, all of Johnson's tricks, all of Johnson's superior knowledge of boxing availed but little against the indomitable steadfastness of purpose of the cowboy. He waged a waiting battle, and for once the negro must recall his oft-repeated boast that he could make any opponent in the world lead at him. Willard would not lead.

Stung by the thought that the strength was fast ebbing from his overfed and undertrained body, Johnson fought as he never fought before, carrying the attack into the enemy's territory. Willard replied with counters and allowed the black to tire himself out. Then when the sledgehammer blows began to lack weight Willard's pulses quickened perceptibly and he started on the last lap of the campaign to which he had clung so tenaciously.

It can not be classed as one of the great battles for the heavyweight title. It was too methodical for that. Some of the rounds saw scarcely any fighting at all.

Johnson beat himself, said many, but it must not be forgotten that the fallen champion taxed his skill to the utmost before his strength began to ebb. His blows did not carry the old steam, to be sure, and his judge of distance was bad at times, but his brain was alert as ever and he had all his old knowledge of every angle of the game of fistieuffs. That some of his blows did not topple the young giant amazed the ringsiders as they saw them land flush on Willard's jaw. This also had a dispiriting effect on Johnson himself, but although Willard's knees sagged a score of times and he seemed about to go down under a rain of blows, he always managed to keep on his feet. This was the triumph of youth and right living.

WILLARD'S WIFE NOT SURPRISED

Los Angeles, Cal., April 6.—"I knew all along that Jess would win," said Mrs. Jess Willard here when told of the outcome of the fight at Havana. She appeared pleased, but not at all surprised. Her only other comment was made to Jess Willard, Jr., sixteen months old. "Your daddy is champion of the world," she said to him, and kissed him.

SUBMARINE SINKS SHIP

Genoa, Italy, April 6.—Intelligence was received here that a German submarine had sunk the Italian steamer Luigi Parodi, which left Baltimore on Jan. 22 with a cargo of coal for Genoa. Great excitement prevails and the authorities have taken strong measures to protect the German colony and German ships from the possible exactation of reprisals. Nothing is known as to the fate of the crew of the Luigi Parodi, which was made up entirely of Genoese.

PRESIDENT WILL UTTER NO THREATS

Protests Stoutly Against Allies' Blockade of Germany.

AMERICAN NOTE MADE PUBLIC

Tone More Solemn Than Severe, and Framed With a View of Upholding What This Government Conceives to Be Law—Government Looks to Great Britain to Make Reparation For Violation of Neutral Rights.

Washington, April 6.—While protesting vigorously against certain features of the allies' blockade of Germany, the United States government is not yet indulging in any threats or otherwise attempting to coerce Great Britain into conducting her war operations in conformity with what this government considers to be the law of nations. This was made clear here with the issuance of the note of the United States to Great Britain with respect to the British orders in council making effective the plan of the allies to cut off all trade with Germany.

The American note is essentially a lawyer's argument framed with a view of upholding what this government conceives to be the law rather than in the expectation of achieving any substantial modification of the British policy. Its tone is more solemn than severe.

Notice is served that the United States will look to Great Britain to "make reparation for every act which the rules of international law constitute a violation of neutral rights."

This announcement that the United States will demand compensation for every loss growing out of specific acts of British interference with American trade in violation of what are considered to be American rights is the sole reference contained in the note to the intentions of the United States in the premises. Settlement is thus put upon a basis of dollars and cents, and it is generally conceded that for the present this represents the full measure of what the United States is in a position to do.

Ambassador Sharp at Paris was instructed to present a copy of the American note to Great Britain to the French foreign office with the statement that although the French admiralty decree had not been officially received in Washington, it was understood here to be identical with the British order in council and the American government therefore made similar reply.

D. D. D. In Hospitals; Standard Skin Cure

How many hospital patients, suffering the frightful itch, the raw scorching pain of skin disease, have been soothed to sleep by a soothing fluid washed in by the nurse's hands?

What fluid is the famous D. D. D. fluid prescribed for eczema?

THE SUPERVISING NURSE of one of our prominent Catholic institutions (name of nurse and institute on application), writes regarding a patient. "The disease had eaten her eyebrows away. Her nose and lips had become disfigured. Since the use of D. D. D. her eyebrows are growing, her nose and face have assumed their natural expression."

How many eczema sufferers are paying their doctors for regular treatment and are being treated with this soothing, healing fluid?

DR. GEO. T. RICHARDSON frankly writes "D. D. D. is superior to anything I have ever found. Soft and soothing, yet a powerful agent."

To do the work, D. D. D. Prescription must be applied according to directions given in the pamphlet around every bottle. Follow these directions—and see!

And it certainly takes away the itch at once—the moment the fluid is applied. The skin is soothed—calmed—so thoroughly refreshed—delightfully cooled.

All druggists of standing have the famous specific as well as the efficient D. D. D. Skin Soap.

But we are so confident of the merits of this prescription that we will refund the purchase price of the first full size bottle if it fails to reach your case. You alone are to judge.

NEW FLOOD MEASURES IN SENATE

Provides For Election of Conservancy Directors.

FOSTERED BY SENATOR GARVER

House Measure Said to Have Been Designed to Prevent Competition by Municipally-Owned Light Plants Reported to the Calendar For Passage. New Anti-Saloon League Makes Its Appearance—Legislative Review.

Columbus, April 6.—The Liggett measure, which is said to have been designed to prevent competition by municipally owned lighting plants, was reported to the house calendar for passage. The bill was introduced by Representative Liggett of Logan as a provision for selling surplus current of the municipal plant to factories and other consumers outside the city or village. The committee rewrote the bill and inserted rate restrictions which experts say would make it impossible for a municipality to sell current to consumers within the city limits in competition with a privately owned plant.

Rates for municipal current under the bill must be high enough to allow 5 per cent interest on the cost of acquiring, constructing and enlarging the plant, in addition to covering the cost of operating expenses, maintenance, depreciation, repairs, losses and damages.

Election of conservancy directors in flood protection districts, instead of appointment by the common pleas court, is provided in a bill introduced by Senator Garver of Miami county. The new Garver measure does not prohibit the construction of dams proposed in the Dayton plan for protection. Each county included in the Miami valley conservancy district would elect one director. Through this arrangement the upper Miami valley counties would elect a majority of the directors. They would oppose the Dayton dry reservoir system. Dayton and lower Miami valley citizens, therefore, are as much opposed to the proposition as to the former one. In districts already established a special election to choose directors would have to be held within thirty days after the proposed law becomes effective. In districts not yet established the election must be held within sixty days.

The state highway commissioner and the superintendent of public works are to be ex-officio directors in all the districts, but without authority to vote. They are to act only in an advisory capacity.

School Fight On.

The first big school-fight of the session is scheduled for Thursday. The Deaton county uniformity textbook bill was set as a special order on that day.

Representative Lovett of Adams introduced the Anti-Saloon league bill to prevent getting contributions for campaign purposes by deducting a sum from a bill owed. The drys charged in the prohibition campaign that business men who sell goods to breweries had part of their bill deducted without their consent, they being notified of the deduction after it was made. It was charged the forced contribution was agreed to rather than lose trade.

High school fraternities and sororities, which were suppressed by law, would be revived by the bill of Jones of Franklin. It legalizes such societies if a member of the school board or a teacher is made an active member and if the pupil gets his parents' consent to join.

The house killed by indefinite postponement the Jones bill for service of summons in civil cases by registered letter; the Bragg bill, requiring a deed to show the actual purchase price; the Lustig bill, making recording of final record of a case optional with the judge.

A bill introduced by Senator Sutton would prohibit the keeping of eggs in cold storage longer than three months. If they were in storage for thirty days, the grocer would be compelled to place large placard, labeled "Cold Storage," above them. Foods other than eggs might be kept in cold storage for a year. Monthly reports must be made to the state agricultural board.

COLLECTOR OF PORT MALONE GETS EVIDENCE

New York a Base of Supplies For British Warships.

New York, April 6.—That New York is a base of supplies for the British warships that have been doing duty off Sandy Hook has been pretty well established by Collector of the Port Dudley Field Malone, and as a result of long investigations that he has made, it is possible that some tug owners and others will be indicted by the grand jury and later have to stand trial.

These tugs, which belong in New York, Philadelphia and New England, have been carrying foodstuffs, fresh vegetables, coal and other supplies not only from New York, but from other ports, and have been loading them on the cruisers far out at sea.

Collector Malone heard of this several weeks ago and he started an investigation of his own, and through the work of George F. Lamb, the head of the neutrality squad, and several secret service operatives, a very interesting situation has developed.

The district over which the collector has jurisdiction extends from Newark bay to the Connecticut state line, and has miles of water front. After finding out some things which showed how extensive this scheme of neutrality violation was, Mr. Malone asked Washington for more help and he had several extra secret service men assigned to him and the torpedo boat destroyers McDougal, Drayton and Parker, the dispatch boat Dolphin and a navy yard tug were detailed for special work.

Hupmobile

CAR OF THE AMERICAN FAMILY

Ask the Garage Man

The garage is a motor car clinic. All kinds of cars with all kinds of symptoms and diseases come there to be cured.

Ask the surgeon in overalls about the Hupmobile.

He will tell you that many of them come for gas and oil.

"But mighty few," he will add, "for repairs."

"I have no reason to 'boost' Hupmobiles," he will say with a grin. "They don't particularly help my business."

After that admission, listen to what he has to say. He knows cars.

He will tell you that the Hupmobile is a wonder.

He will confirm what you already have come to believe—that the Hupmobile stands up under conditions that would kill a car less sturdy.

He will tell you that the Hupmobile motor is a wonder—a glutton for hard work.

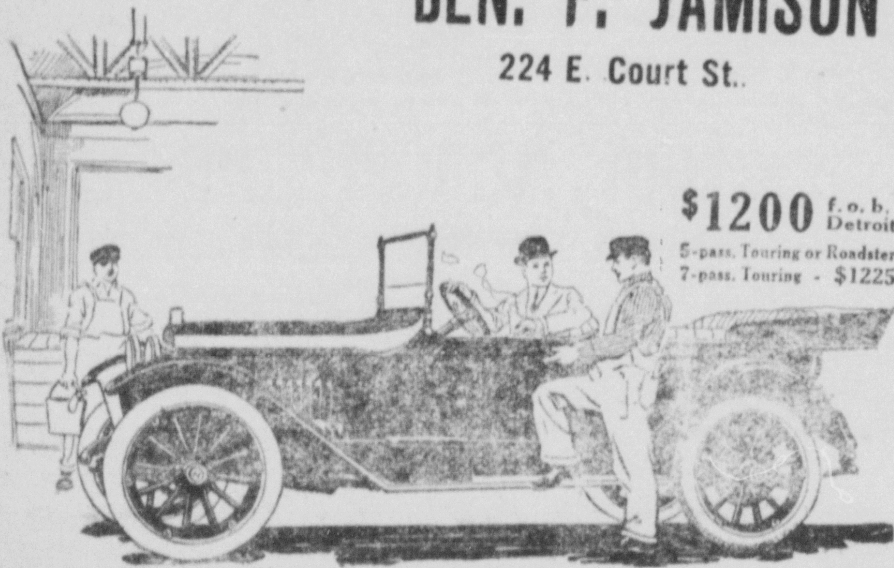

The garage man is the friend of the Hupmobile in spite of the fact that it does not swell his income.

He is its friend because he loves a good car—and he can't help saying so. He is always a Hupmobile booster.

Let us add to his testimony with a Hupmobile demonstration

JURORS DRAWN FOR MAY TERM

The grand and petit jurors for the May term of court, were drawn from the jury wheel by Jury Commissioners, Geo. Hitchcock and Geo. Inskeep Tuesday afternoon, and more than ordinary interest centers upon the personnel of the grand jury owing to the nature of the cases which will come before them.
